The Idaho State Department of Agriculture's travel policy and procedures are governed and implemented in accordance with Idaho Code §§ 67-2001, and 67-2004 through 67-2008 and the interpretations adopted by the State Board of Examiners, State Travel Policy and Procedures

This policy is also in accordance with the Fair Labor Standards Act travel and training time regulations.

All reimbursable travel must be properly authorized, actually incurred, and essential in achieving the goals or fulfilling the responsibilities of the Department, and conducted in the most economical and practical manner for the state.

Any exceptions to the following procedures must have approval of the Director, and if necessary, the Board of Examiners.

I. TRAVEL AUTHORIZATION

It shall be the responsibility of every supervisor to consider all factors and alternatives to identify overall costs including rate comparisons, work time, and per diem expenses to determine the most economical and practical means of transportation for their personnel.

- A. All out-of-state travel must be approved by the Director. Those employees who routinely travel to bordering states may receive blanket authority for such travel.
- B. All employees must receive approval from their supervisor for in-state travel requiring full travel status. Employees are in full travel status when state business requires overnight or longer stays.
- C. Employees who are in daily travel status shall be assigned to a work location that serves the interests and needs of the Department. Prior approval for daily travel is not required unless it involves out-of-state or full travel status.

- D. Employees who wish to be accompanied by their spouse are subject to the limitations of this policy. No expenses of the spouse may be charged against the state.
- E. If an agency-owned vehicle is available to the traveler, but for personal convenience a privately owned conveyance is used, no reimbursement shall be allowed unless otherwise determined by his/her supervisor. (Please refer to the department's vehicle policy for further details.)

II. TRAVEL TIME

- A. Home to work in an ordinary situation: An employee who travels from home before his/her regular workday and returns to his/her home at the end of the workday is engaged in ordinary home to work travel, which is a normal incident of employment. This is true whether he/she works at a fixed location or at different job sites. Normal travel from home to work is not work time.
- B. Home to work in emergency situations: If an employee has left his/her last work station after completing his/her day's work and is subsequently called out to an emergency, outside of regular hours, job travel to the job and back is work time.
- C. Travel away from the assigned workstation during normal working hours is considered hours worked. If an employee is directed as part of his/her job to travel during non-working hours, the employee is eligible for travel time en route.
- D. Travel shall be by mode of transportation that is most practical and/or cost effective.
- E. Travel time outside of the employee's normal working schedule to attend conferences, seminars, association meetings, etc., when the employee requests the travel, shall not be credited as work time, unless authorized by the appointing authority.
- F. Work assignments that require an employee to stay out over a weekend or overnight(s) will qualify for expenses but no time will be compensated beyond hours worked.
- G. Mileage for personal vehicle usage between an employee's official workstation or an employee's home and travel to the airport will be reimbursed at the lesser mileage of the two distances. Mileage from the Boise office and the airport is eight-8 miles.

III. INTERNAL AUDITING AND APPROVAL OF TRAVEL EXPENSE
